

ESKADENIA E-Solutions

With its rapid expansion and accelerating penetration rates, the Internet has become essential for every business. No matter what type of business you run, the benefits you can obtain from investing in the Internet, as an operational tool, are endless.

ESKADENIA Software has extensive experience in the development of e-commerce, e-government, and e-business applications, in addition to website/ portal design and development. ESKADENIA's Web applications are usually developed using Microsoft technology, yet, we also have high competence in using other technologies.

E-Commerce

ESKADENIA's e-commerce solutions provide total control over the online shopping experience.

Your site can be connected to virtually any online credit card payment gateway. In addition, ESKADENIA's e-commerce solutions provide secure data storage administration and content management capabilities.

E-Government

ESKADENIA enables government bureaus to interact effectively and securely and to translate their governmental processes to Internet/ Intranet realisations. We deliver the strategies, tools and solutions that help to increase productivity, reduce cost, and enhance the citizen's access to the provided government information and services.

Our products meet key government directives for secure channels, directories and portal services, which help to leverage the existing resources.

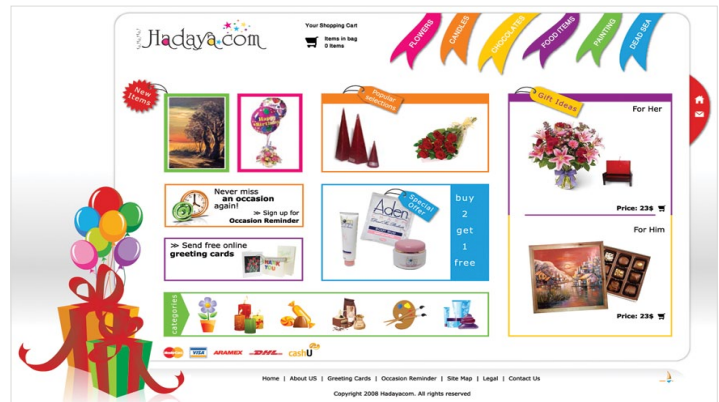

Portals

The ESKADENIA team of developers and designers is well equipped with knowledge and experience to create portals for your business, no matter how big.

All your information, products and services are gathered in one easily accessed place that provides enterprise-wide information to company employees and other communities including customers. In addition, our portals can provide a variety of services including Web searching, news, white and yellow page directories, free e-mail accounts, discussion groups, online shopping, and links to other websites.

These portals can be personalised to best suit the subscribers' needs and provide comprehensive management over content.

Moreover, integration can be applied between the portal and other applications, thus providing a more dynamic and interactive environment.

E-Chamber

ESKADENIA provides advanced e-chamber solutions for chambers of commerce and industry.

Through an advanced Intranet site, the chamber's employees can perform their internal duties and work procedures more efficiently.

The e-chamber system also supports a wide range of transactions and activities including membership and registration services, online payment processing through a secure payment gateway, extensive reports generation, and cashier transactions such as invoice issuing and fees collecting.

Website Design, Development, and Hosting

We at ESKADENIA believe that a company's website serves as its frontier to a boundaryless global audience. This belief acts as the cornerstone for all our website projects; our marketing specialists, graphic designers, programmers, layout professionals, project managers, and business consultants team up together to bring new value to your business on the Internet.

Through every step of the project, including the website design, development and hosting, our target is to create a Web presence that reflects the uniqueness and competitive positioning of your business.

Intranet

ESKADENIA provides comprehensive Intranet services offering one-spot access for your organisation's internal affairs. Such services include intra-company access to internal information, time sheets, bulletin boards, conference room booking, event calendar, and scheduling. In addition, using single sign-on, employees can have controlled access to other applications within their work environment, such as workflow and document management, as well as other external websites.
